

A career that fits your future

Our internal and external training and development programs are designed not only to fulfill the evolving and ongoing needs of clients, but also to further your career. We believe in five principles that nurture a collaborative environment, and challenges individuals to grow and expand their skillset and knowledge base. This win-win approach ensures that you'll always be at the forefront of today's and tomorrow's technology revolution, with the expertise you need to succeed.

Employee Satisfaction Principles

At Quinnox, you can be assured that through every step of your career, we are dedicated to following these five Employee Satisfaction Principles:

We aim to create new challenges for employees, including adding “stretch” roles that help expand their horizons.

We will recognize and reward excellence, as well as differentiated and unique contributions of top-performing individuals and project team.

We will continue to invest in program to improve technical excellence, client awareness, domain knowledge, engagement skills, business acumen, and market and competitive environment training.

Reviews and feedback sessions on performance will be conducted on a regular basis, helping to ensure you're always on the right track, and that all available career resources are being used.

We seek to actively promote self-investment of time, energy and intent as a prime factor in our culture of growth.
